SCHOOL ENVIRONMENT: University Laboratory School (ULS), is a public charter school that operates in partnership with the College of Education at the University of Hawai'i. The school serves as an experimental site for researching and developing innovations in teaching, learning, and assessment in grades K-12 while providing a high quality education for all its students.

ULS students represent a socio-economic, intellectual, and ethnic cross-section of the population of the State of Hawai'i. All students take the same strong academic program in heterogeneous classes with heavy focus on content, inquiry, reflection, laboratory work, problem solving, written and verbal expression, publication, and presentation. As a result of this rigorous curriculum, students have received many state and national awards for academic and extracurricular activities.

Courses offered are advanced in substance and approach; therefore, we do not offer conventional Honors or Advanced Placement courses. Instead, students in grade 10-11 have the opportunity to earn college credit by participating in the University of Hawai'i Outreach College Summer Session.

Following the nine-period school day (7:45a.m.-3:15pm.), students typically participate in a sport or enrichment activity. We believe all students benefit from full participation in a wide variety of intellectual and athletic activities. Approximately 220 students in grades 9-12 participate in 32 interscholastic athletic teams; ten vocal and instrumental music groups; dance and physical and wellness groups, STEM, SEL, student government and leadership; publications and presentations; and service activities.

RANKING POLICY: We do not calculate a numerical rank of our students. Ranking within such a small class does not give a useful picture of student achievement. We believe that individual student accomplishments in our challenging academic program best indicate a student's capacity to be successful in college.
